The 1974 Senior Class of Lincoln High School Gives To You The 50TH ELWOODIAN

a moment in time

On the crooked road of existence walks a man. He marks the passing of time by moving from one intersection to another. His back is turned to those years that have past, while his face is fixed boldly to the future. His movement is constantly forward, as he chips bits of the future and places those markers, those days, years, and months, behind him. But still all that separates the two, the past and the present, is a small intersection. The 1974 Ellwoodian salutes the past, in its reflection, the present. The Ellwoodian stands as a stop sign at an intersection of time.

a wave good-bye
a wish of luck
to our friend

Lincoln said good-bye to a former teacher, a guidance counselor, and a friend. Miss LaRue Craig, organizer of Lincoln's guidance department, resigned from the faculty at Lincoln after 26 years of dedicated service. Miss Craig received her Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Pittsburgh in 1945, majoring in history and Spanish, with minors in English and social studies. In 1955, she received her Masters of Education degree in counselor education from the University of Pittsburgh. She began teaching at Lincoln in 1945, and became a guidance counselor in 1948. She undertook her position as Senior High guidance counselor in 1953. Miss Craig was responsible for re-organizing the ECHO, the first student council, the first Future Teachers club, the club council, and the American Field Service Committee. Because of her work in the guidance department, Lincoln has the most extensive scholarship program in the area. But the real gift Miss Craig gave to Lincoln was her unbelievable response to people and their problems. She was always there if someone needed assistance, help, or just a shoulder to cry on. Many are unaware of her numerous endeavors. Whenever those she assisted tried to express their gratitude, she told them it wasn't necessary, explaining, "It's my job." Synonymous with Miss Craig and her work, is her "right hand man," Mrs. Alice Puzz, who exhibits a great deal of interest and concern for the programs initiated and carried out by Miss Craig. The guidance department, students, faculty, administration, and all of Ellwood City will feel an emptiness in her leaving. But only the best of luck can be expressed to a woman who has the courage to start another journey this side of the rainbow.

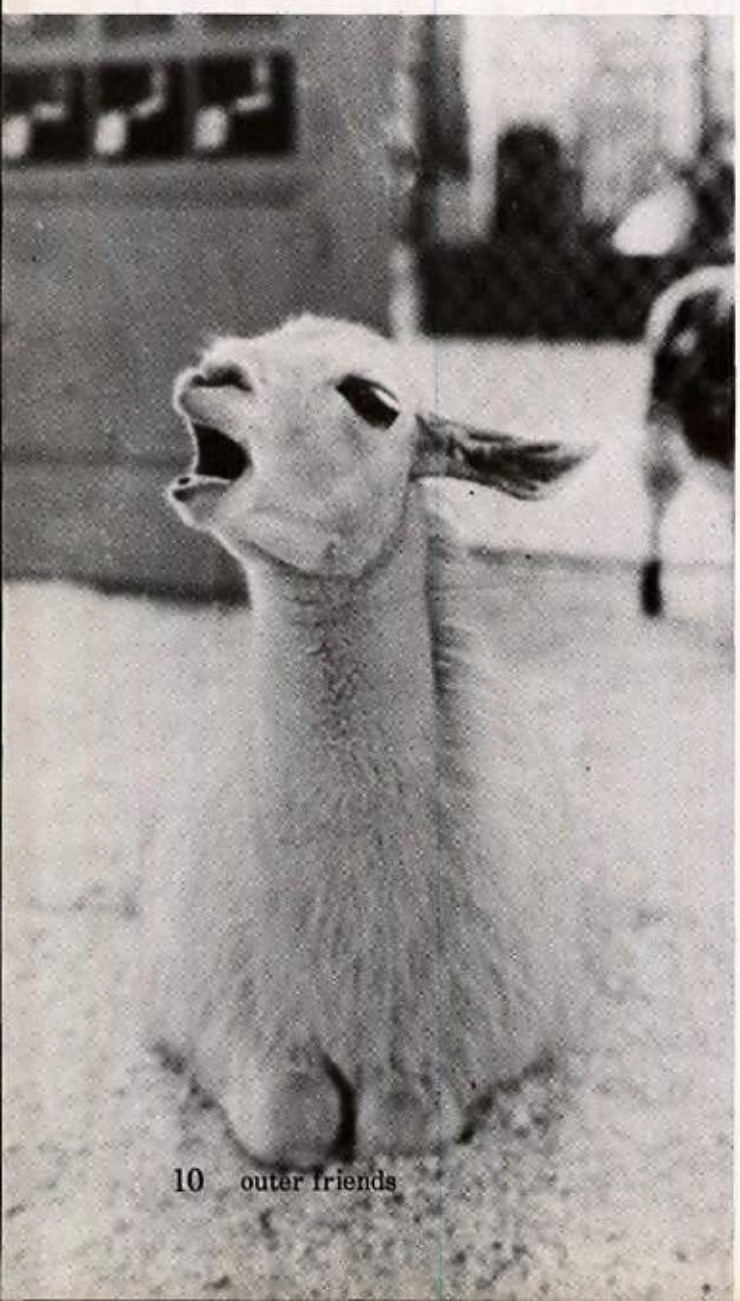
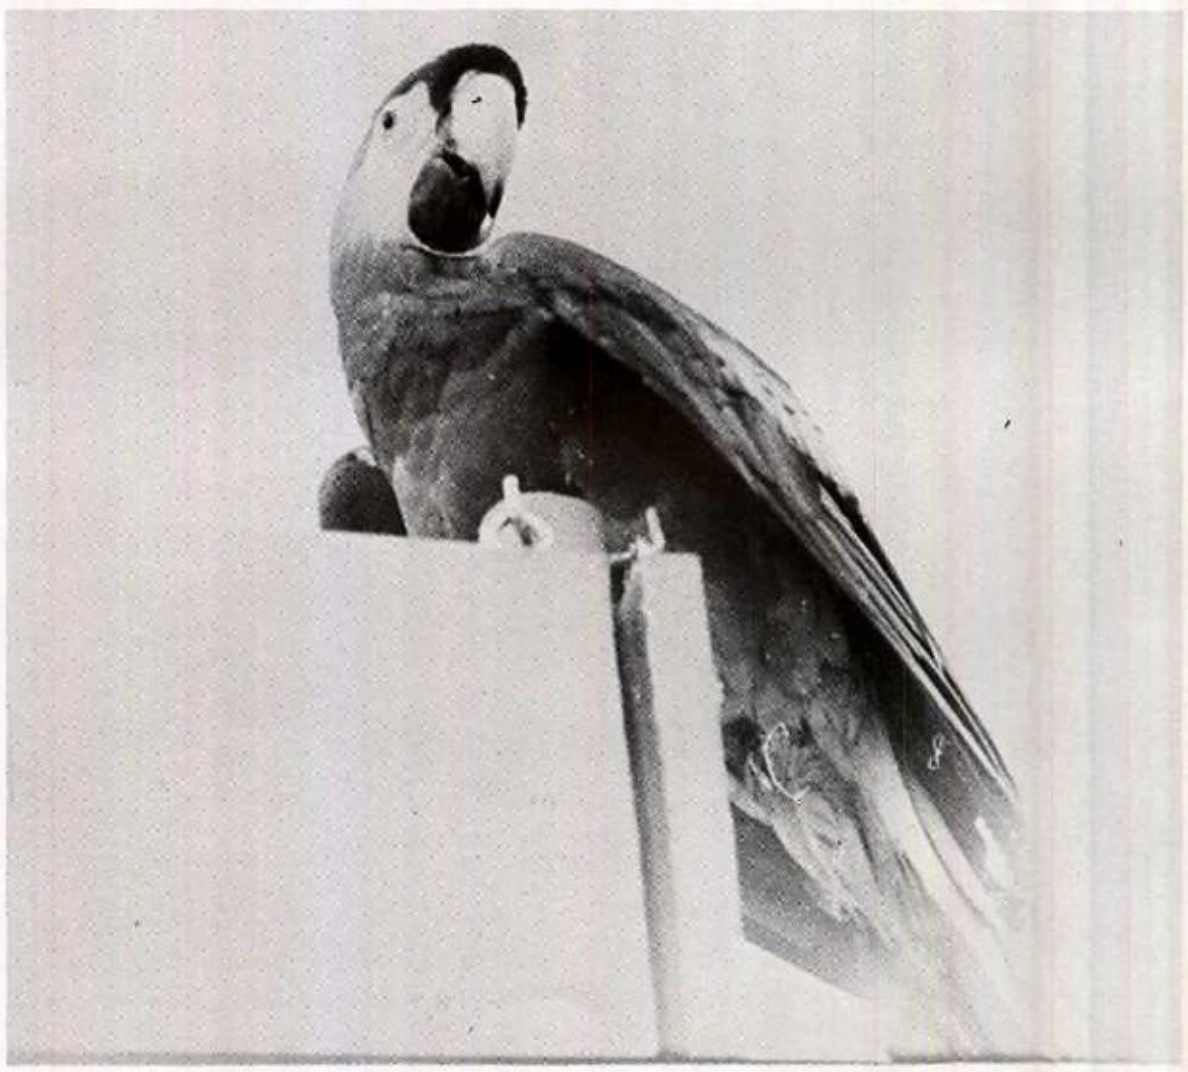
if we could talk to the animals





just imagine it

If I knew
no people and I had no friends
I would see that a puppy does smile
A monkey and I could share a good joke
And I and a kitten
could cry
A puzzling problem
could be solved
with the help of a wise ol' owl
For all of the animals are placed on the earth to share it with comrades; mankind clothes make people into what?

Lower skies?
Nope!--higher heels.
Platforms reach new heights in styles of wood and cork.

clown mimics?
No sir!--just big bow ties
along with comfy baggies.

Relics from Mama's wardrobe?
Not a chance!--A loose cardigan complete with lapels sets today's pace.

Reincarnated pilgrims?
Look again!--wild eye-openers
in the form of rainbow sox stretch up legs to meet rolled-up bluejeans comrades

Clothes make the people . . .
it's true.
But Lord knows what into!

There is no school today.

After relaxing

A night of magic, of beauty, a night in heaven.

The evening was bewitched with a strange excitement Quickened pulses

anticipated the nights beauty an unknown peace settled

As the faces reflected a blue band member was . . .

What was a 1973-1974 Lincoln High Band member? A band member was one who could run one lap around the field, and still manage to do a hundred deep knee bends, during the hottest band camp ever. A band member was one who could ride the Thunderbolt at Kennywood fifty times, and still manage to march a "beautifully tailored" wool uniform. A band member was one who could put up with the "fresh" smell of the buses to Bucknell University. A band member was one who could sit through long rehearsals, trying to get ready for the spring concert. But most of all, a band member was dedication, hard work, and perseverance.

style and grace

The majorettes added a touch of femininity to parades and football games. They devised exciting, entertaining routines, that blended with band drills to perfect half-time shows. Working with the band at bandcamp, and during night practices they succeeded in adding a flare to the organization. Under the leadership of head majorettes Cathy Viccari and Robin Houk, they traveled with the band to Bucknell University, and to other activities. The highlight of their year was twirling fire to "Spanish Harlem" at the Farrell-Ellwood football game. Because of their intense work and unity they made the 1973-74 season a success.

combination creates a team

The drill team of 1973-74 consisted of the color guard, flag team, and rifle squad. Each separate unit worked within their group to devise routines, and practice rifle twirling. These groups added color and vitality to the band during halftime shows, and at other activities. Without the participation of these three organizations the band would be just an empty shell. These twenty individuals worked hard at band camp and during night practices. Special recognition is deserved by these three groups, because they worked on their own, without the help of a sponsor.

young musicians foresee future

The Junior High Band, under the direction of Mr. Robert Egan, lead an activity-filled year. Performing in a Packer football game and marching in the Wampum Christmas parade, were only a few highlights. Ninth graders in the band lead double roles as they also marched with the Senior High Blue Band during many of their activities. Junior High band members switched to concert instruments and presented two concerts which were both received well. Most of all, band members worked hard to prepare for the time they become members of the Senior High Band.

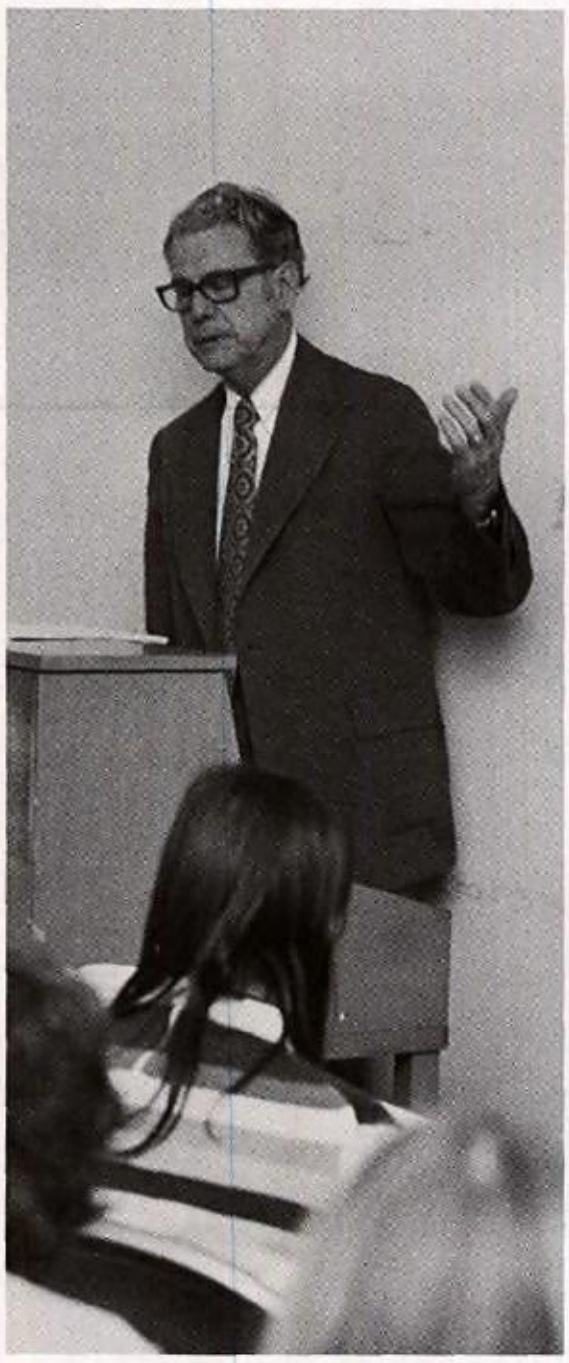
mr. gehm's harmony and melody leaves Lincoln

1974 can be remembered as a year of anniversaries for Lincoln High School. Mr. Gehm was no exception as he celebrated thirty years of service to the music department. However, 1974 also marked the retirement of Mr. Gehm.

With the help of Mr. Gehm, our choirs grew both in number and quality. In 1944, Lincoln High School had only three choirs. At the present time, our choirs consisted of Concert Choir, Choral Capers, Senior Mixed and Girls Choir and the Junior High Choirs.

Mr. Gehm leaves Lincoln but his accomplishments will always be remembered.



unique choirs merged together for pleasure

Presenting the 1974 Concert Choir and Choral Capers! These special choirs worked together to help make Mr. Gehm's last year at Lincoln his very best. For a concert choir member, the work began with the tryout. After the acceptance, the members attended choir rehearsals throughout the summer. Work did not stop there. Second period was spent in daily practice. Practice paid off as the choir received warm reception at their concerts and in their travels to the eastern part of the state. For select members of concert choir, choral capers was an added activity. Both of these choirs succeeded in pleasing their audiences with delightful sounds.

mixed choir

blends in voice

The Senior Mixed Choir kept the tradition of the fine choirs at Lincoln. The choir lead a versatile year with a variety of songs to be learned. Practicing everyday first period, the mixed choir worked together to have the songs learned for performance. Whether they sang a contemporary song at the spring concert or a religious hymn during the Christmas Gift Concert, the twenty-eight member choir added enjoyment to everyone. Attendance at a concert was not wasted as the Senior Mixed Choir blended their voices to perfection.

Craig Greenham and Laurie Newton put some fun into their practice.

Cindy Casciato and Beth Schuller work together on songs for the concert.

girls sang in perfect harmony

Feminity was exemplified by the twenty-seven girls in the Senior Girls Choir. Throughout the year, they practiced to present two concerts. Both concerts were highly appreciated by the public. Whether in the serious mood of Christmas time or in the light-hearted atmosphere of the Spring, the Senior Girls Choir brought results. Under the direction of Mr. Gehm, they improved upon their natural talents, strengthening and improving their tone quality. Practicing diligently each day fifth period to improve and blend their voices, they accomplished one of the hardest concepts of music--perfect harmony.

young juniors

united together

Having the record of being one of the largest junior high choirs, the choir sang on! The choir had one hundered seventy-four members and was divided into two classes. Although they were divided, the choirs worked hard to perfect the techniques of making music that Mr. Gehm taught them. All members learned many of the songs for the two concerts presented with the senior high choirs. Efforts paid off as the choirs were appreciated for their hard works by all that attended. The junior high choirs will always be remembered as one of the stepping stones to the senior high choirs.

bowlers don't "spare" a pin

Members of Lincoln's Bowling Club rise and shine early Saturday morning, in order to arrive at the lanes on time. Many of the bowlers have become very advanced in their abilities, and bowl into the high two-hundred range. This is very helpful in the tournaments which are held throughout the year. Bake sales were held during the year in order to help raise money for the jackets junior and senior members received, if they had belonged to the club for two consecutive years. The club is successfully led by Mr. Boschini, sponsor, and his capable staff of officers.

contributes pep

marching group

Enthusiasm, hard work, and lots of pep characterize our junior high drill team, the Lincolnettes. Each Tuesday and Thursday after school the girls are hard at work in room 119 preparing their routines for the next parade. Sponsored by Miss Connie Mount and led by Sandy Toma, president; Rhonda Fotia, vice president; Desiree McAllister, secretary; Tammy Schwartz, treasurer; and Donna Plassmeyer, reporter, the Lincolnettes participate in many parades, both at home and away, and are an important part of the junior high pep rallies. The Lincolnettes make an important and valuable contribution to school spirit here at Lincoln.

cheers sound

out above all

Cheers sound out above the noisy crowd. The band strikes up a familiar cheer and the cheerleaders are off, urging the team onto a successful game. It was hard work keeping the student body interested enough to cheer hard and loud, but the Junior High Cheerleaders had that special power of persuasion that kept everyone going.

Mrs. Cummings sponsored the girls with great enthusiasm, giving them extra confidence when it was needed.

In every way the Junior High Cheerleaders came out of the year on top. Their spirit grew with the crowds as they smiled, screamed, and lived through a year that will never be forgotten.

"spirit" visits Lincoln's gym

It takes organization, cooperation, and hardwork for a squad to be successful, and the 1973-74 J.V. Cheerleaders had all three of these qualities. The eight girls, with sponsor Miss Marino, cheered for Lincoln's J. V. teams, and still found time to aid in varsity cheering projects. They spent hours practicing during the summer months to turn out highly polished cheers at games and pep rallies. Their spirited outlook was displayed in colorful tags and posters emphasizing team support. The eight girls, five sophomores and three juniors, had many exciting and unusual adventures traveling to away games where they sat as the only "audience" the varsity cheerleaders had.

a cheer always came packaged within a smile

What does cheerleading mean? The six 1973-74 Varsity Cheerleaders and sponsor Miss Morino, all echoed that it was more than standing in front of an unemotional crowd. It meant friendships that were cemented by hurried dinners of potato chips and oreo cookies, or a broken zipper that was professionally mended in a foreign bath room. It meant keeping spirit alive when it's cousin, victory, seemed to have packed it's bags and left town. It was hours of practicing cheers so that student support could be heard through one resounding voice. It told the team that Lincoln truely had Wolverine pride.

students move with the music

Students dancing fast or slow, rhymatically or offbeat gathered weekly at the always faithful gym dances. Whether one student or fifty attended, the Dance Club, with officers Royce Davidson, President; Randy Boariu, Vice-President; Louise Falotico, Secretary; Val Bauder, Treasurer; and Amy Kardish, Publicity Chairman, somehow made each dance a success. Disc jockeys Rinky Dink and Bruce Matteo added flavor and change to the dances. With the money brought in by the dances, the club and sponsors, Mr. Foley and Mr. Rossman, gave generously to many charities and activities. Weekend dances meant new loves, new experiences, and most important, new friends.

staff presents a timely image

Cutlines, bylines, headlines, and gutters were a few of the many terms that buzzed through the heads of Echo staffers as they strived to turn out Lincoln High's newspaper. Mr. Ialongo, sponsor of the Echo, supervised an eager staff of six seniors and twelve juniors. All staffers spend long hours working towards their goal of eight papers for the 1973-74 school year. The timely image of the Echo slid towards a newer feature concept. They have devised a format which included featuring one club or activity per issue with the thought of giving recognition to all of them. They also experimented with the tabloid size paper to add variety to the issue. At the year's end one feeling was prevalent among staffers; well done!

students at Lincoln find help from I.M.C. members

The I.M.C., a world of records, tapes, movies, and equipment was run efficiently and skillfully by the I.M.C. Club during the 1973-74 school year. Sponsor, Mr. Panico, organized a club of 25 members headed by president Michael Esposito, vice-president, Dave Hammersmith, and secretary-treasurer, Brenda Wallace. Their duties included giving assistance in the library, and aiding any teacher or student with audio-visual materials. The proper care and maintenance of the materials was also a learning experience for the members. Many of them devoted much of their free time learning library techniques and following a lead for a future career.

future teachers helping others

"I'll get by with a little help from my friends." This was the happy cry of Lincoln's teachers as they received aid from members of the Pennsylvania Youth Education Association or PYEA. Sponsored by Mrs. Franus and skillfully headed by President, Margie Kellner; Vice President, Carol Fleischer; Secretary, Eva Cipro; and Treasurer, Patrice Ialongo, the club also devoted much of their time to working in a concession stand during the home football games. But all their time was not spent working, for slumber and skating parties as well as many entertaining field trips were arranged for the club's enjoyment.

business club gains new name

Future Business Leaders of America got a new name this year. It is now known as Lincoln High Business club, sponsored by Miss Ottobre, and headed by Mary Anne Varrato, President; Nancy Laszlo, Vice President; Karen Labor, Secretary; Toni Larry, Treasurer; Nancy Latham, Reporter; and Kim Daufen, Program Chairman. The newly named club carried on many activities, some of which involved the community. Some of their activities were making Christmas favors for the hospital, a spring fashion show of prom gowns, and during secretary week they got each one of the school secretaries a red rose. The members worked hard all year and in May they were rewarded with a hard earned Senior Banquet.

ushering, caring, giving, sharing

Under the sponsorship of Mr. Don Hollerman, the Hi-Y Club has certainly done its share of giving. They not only give money to needy causes, but also give of themselves.

Out of only 180 school days, the Hi-Y members have participated in three projects and outings. Whether it be ushering at special school and local programs or packing peanuts these boys were always there giving a helping hand.

Officers for the club are as follows: Kevin Canterna, president; Nick Colao, vice president; Royce Davidson, secretary; Dan Lordi, treasurer; Tom Santillo, chaplain; Denny Keane, sergeant-at-arms, and Bill Barkay, publicity chairman.

reaching and finding ourselves

"Finding ourselves in each other," might have been the motto of the 1973-74 Tri-Hi-Y. Under new guidance of sponsor Miss Johnson and officers Marianne Deitrick, president; Julie Malcolm, vice president; Mary Ann DeLoia, treasurer; Vicki Goff, publicity chairman; and Sally Goebel, chaplain, the club declared the year a hit. Ingenuity was the key to a successful Valentine's dance, that recognized all of Lincoln's lovers.

The club's community involvement was exemplified in money collected for U.N.I.C.E.F., favors made for McGuire Home, and Lawrence County's Home for crippled children and adults, and refreshments served at the Municipal Building for holiday shoppers.

The year ended with a reflective candlelight service that bid to departing members goodbye and extended hand out to the new.

The "young and lively" Y-Teens of Lincoln held their annual formal dance March 30. Girls from both 9th and 10th grade and their escorts attending the dance entered the beautifully disguised cafeteria to discover the wonderful world of "Appleblossom Time," the theme of the dance. The girls chosen for court were Leslie Bauder, Kay Ann Bellissimo, Michelle Bilodeau, Cindy DeCaro, Gina DeCaro, Gerianne Fazioli, Cathy Laszlo, Joan Pegg, and Mary Lynn Silvestri.

The Y-Teens also held a sock-hop to help raise money for the dance. Sponsored by Miss Freidhoff and Miss Mount, the club concluded, looking back on a successful, fun-filled year.

a twinkling of stardom shone in their eyes for that one night

Informal tryouts, followed by weeks of grinding a script to pieces all pointed to one thing, performance night. The Jr. Dramatics Club had their night January 19, 1974, in their presentation of "The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis." Chuck Figurel, president of the club, who also portrayed the clever Dobie Gillis, combined his talents with those of 64 club members, the remaining officers, and sponsors, Mr. Hollerman and Mr. Brown. The three-act play drew a large crowd that was delighted by the Jr. thespians' performances. When the curtain was lowered, there were a few sighs of relief that "it was all over" but the twinkling of stardom did shine in their eyes, if only for one night.

a masterpiece come to life

The veterans of the theater at Lincoln High, the Sr. Dramatic Club, stepped foot onto a newly laid stage, in a brand new auditorium, to present their play, "Dear Diary." The club, directed by Mr. Robert Galvin, and officers, Jeff Krosovic, president; Chris Venezie, vice president; Wesley Seidel, secretary; and Louise Falotico, treasurer, spent long hours perfecting the play into a masterpiece. The contemporary play followed the life of a young girl, Betty Lou Maxwell, who wrote an imaginary diary that would give her seemingly boring life a spark. The infamous diary brings trouble to her entire family, but all is resolved at the play's end. Lincoln master thespians brought the curtain down on a standing ovation year.

key club; active part of school and community

With Mr. Bill Spellman at the healm, the men of Key Club became an active part of the school and community this year.

Key Club held ropes at the basketball games as in previous years. The group also sponsored a concession stand at the games to raise money.

Saturday mornings were not idle for Key Clubbers as they assisted their parent organization, the Kiwanis in weekly paper drives.

The group attended the annual convention in March. To raise money they sponsored a speed reading course, a dance, and sold pencils at the school.

super athletes promote sports

The cream of the athletic crop--the super-jocks. Better known, of course, by the name Varsity Club. Under the sponsorship of Frank Geniviva, the club set out to ignite interest in athletics at Lincoln by encouraging members to go out for all sports. Led by officers Ron Tomon, president; Butch Hazen, vice president; Michael Garmon, secretary-treasurer; and Dan Loccisano, announcement secretary, the club again sponsored a highly successful Powder Puff football game. Initiation ceremonies and the purchase of a new football blocking sled highlighted the year. Varsity Club ended the year with plans for future purchases.

Room 211 was one of the busiest rooms in Lincoln last year. Not only was it home for health and physiology teacher Miss Jean Calhoun and her classes, but it also was headquarters for Lincoln High's National Honor Society. With two vivacious sponsors, Miss Calhoun, and Miss Freidhoff, and nineteen hard-working members, the club cast off its honorary cloak and declared its place in the ranks of Lincoln's service clubs. During the fall, the club sold their well-known candy apples at the football games, where they also ushered the reserved seat side. It would take 500 words to describe all the things NHS did and participated in, but at the year's end the club had a feeling of satisfaction with a tremendously successful school year.

Lincoln's Junior High no longer found its voice drowned by the over-powering Senior High. The outgoing Junior High Student Council united and amplified the Junior High's participation in Lincoln's activities. Headed by a winning team of officers, president, Bob Gallaher; vice president, Melissa Russo; secretary, Chris Bauder; treasurer, Mike Berezniak, and sponsor, Mr. Badger, the club filled the year with activities. Ellwood City profited by the council's many service projects which included collecting canned goods, clothing, and decorating Crescent Place during the holidays. They also planned a general junior high party which emphasizes unity once more. At the end of the year, the club sponsored the annual talent show and awards assembly. Here a final farewell was given to those students who would find their seat in Senior High next year.

hard work and student drive equals success

Under strong leadership and the addition of an executive committee, Sr. Student Council gained new respect at Lincoln. The club became active early in the school year as it chose two delegates, Jim Spencer and Valerie Bauder, to attend the P.A.S.C. state convention.

Putting to work the ideas gained at the convention, the council spearheaded "Diane McClintick Week" and succeeded in raising over $2,600 for Diane. It also sponsored a Harvest Dance, Crescent Place Christmas Party, and several movies. The council bought garbage cans and bike racks for the school and held a Student Council banquet.

french club is variety and fun

"Merci beaucoup!" That was the cry of French club officers, and sponsor, Mr. Robert Galvin; President, Linda Friedman; Vice President, Margy Stein; Secretary, Amy Kardish; Treasurer, Sue McAnallen; and Publicity chairman, Chris Venezie, to the group of French I, II, III, IV, V, students who made the year a bursting success. The club's meetings, which were usually held in the sewing room, always possessed fun-loving variety. One of the meetings tested the members hidden art talent for they spent over two hours "slopping with finger paints". Learning about France proved to be an exciting experience for the members who tried their hand at the delicious French cuisine or the difficult French folksongs.

germans toast successful year

Good times with good friends were always augmented by a cold stein of beer, even if that beer happened to be rootbeer. German Club sponsor, Mrs. Clark, and officers Beth Schuller, president; Randy Newton, vice president; Sandy Cole, secretary; and Bob Risko, treasurer, toasted the year a "Erfolg" or success. On November 11, the club celebrated Fasiking, a German festival, by a banquet that was followed by a costume party. Gisela Reinhold, Lincoln's foreign exchange student from Berlin, Germany, was the club's special guest that night. The German Club visited Germany frequently last year, although that Germany really existed only in their minds and hearts.

ancient slaves invade Lincoln

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Sarah Beatrice, Latin Club members had a full year of activities. The year began with the annual Latin Club banquet in honor to the god Saturn. At the banquet, slaves were auctioned off to the highest bidder, and they serve their masters at the banquet and also the following day at school.

Club members also contributed their time and energy in building and operating a booth at the Diane McClintick carnival. At their booth they sold pizza and red wine, which really turned out to be cherry drink. Many other activities also helped in making 73-74 a delightful and fun year for Latin Club members.

Spanish Club had a piñatas year, a year full of surprizes, prizes, and fun. The two Spanish Clubs, Spanish I, sponsored by Mrs. Panico, and Advanced Spanish (II, III & IV years) led by Mrs. Cummings, each contributed to an overall Fiesta feeling at Lincoln. In the first year Spanish Club, much of the year was spent becoming acquainted with the Spanish language and culture through Spanish games and films. The Advanced Spanish Club organized many activities in which both clubs could participate. One such activitiy was the Spanish ballet, Ballet Folk Forico, performed annually in Pittsburgh. The members of the Spanish Clubs were eager to learn another culture with hopes to show that the world really isn't that wide anyway.

The students of Lincoln High School are awakened each morning with these familiar words delivered by a Sound Crew member. Capably sponsored by Mr. Howell Williams, these dedicated students take care of daily announcements, supply sound equipment at pep rallies, and serve as basketball announcers.

The Stage Crew, also sponsored by Mr. Williams, is an invaluabel part of Lincoln High. They set up the stage and work the lights for all assemblies, plays and concerts held here.

Cross-examinations and rebuttals also helped fill many early saturday mornings as members of the Speech and Debate Club attended student congresses, debates, and various speech tournaments. Sponsored by Mrs. Sarah Saunders, the club was formed this year. "That the federal government should guarantee a minimum annual income" was this years debate topic and brought about many arguments from both the negative and affirmative teams. The teams held both wins and loses while the students gathered valuable information with each round regardless of the results.

The scene is room 321, the Ellwoodian room, in the future. The scattered layout sheets and piled-up books have long since disappeared. Even the old table in the middle room has been removed. The room no longer has the sounds of students moaning before a deadline, or laughing at good jokes, or awing at ingenious ideas. The people who had once spent so much time in there had each stepped into their future. So the room lies, quiet. But someone enters the room, and in her arms she carries a book, the 1974 Ellwoodian. hustling and determined play provide fans with exciting year

After recording a 4-2 record over a tough exhibition schedule, the baseball charges of Bill Smeltz and his assistant Rich Bartolomeo entered an even tougher Section 5 play.

Behind the 4-hit pitching of Mark Hutchison, the Wolverines rolled to an easy 4-0, section opening win over Hopewell. With this added confidence the Wolverines coasted over three more section foes before meeting Aliquippa.

The Quips took an early 2-1 lead, but Ellwood came back, and was leading in the bottom of the last inning when Aliquippa scored 2 runs to take the game 6-5.

Hopewell proved to be another easy victory, but consecutive losses to Beaver Falls, Beaver, and Ambridge put the Wolverines up against the wall as far as the section championship was concerned.

Hutchison came through beautifully against Aliquippa, with a 4-hit 3-0 win to give the Wolverines hope for the title. These hopes were quickly smashed as Beaver Falls eliminated the Wolverines 10-0. With all hopes gone, Coach Smeltz went to the bench for the last game with New Castle to give underclassmen some needed experience and dropped the game 6-2.

Although finishing with only 10-8 record, Coach Smeltz has definate championship material returning for the '74 season, in what could be "the year of the Wolverine."

seniors lead thinclads to record-breaking year

The 1973 track season, although dismal in record, proved to be one of many great individual performances.

John Ricciuti blazed to 9.9 time in the 100 yard dash typing his own record. Dave Robuck shattered the 2 mile record by more than 13 seconds adding his name to the record-book. Other record-breakers were: Larry Anthony, with 11.7" in the polevault event; Rusty Barkley set the new record in the intermediate hurdles, shattering that formerly held by Mark "Skinny" Bellissimo, with a time of 41.6.

Under Head Coach Bob Lewis and assistants Lou Zagorski and Jim Irwin the thinclads finished with a 2-5-2 slate, but sent three performers to the WPIAL finals: John Ricciuti, Rusty Barkley, and Jim Gerlach in the discus.

With 12 returning lettermen for the 73-74 season Coach Lewis and his new assistants Bob Timmerman and Bill Ruddy are optimistic towards the future.

Looking towards the future, Head Tennis Coach Lee Ghere combined the efforts of underclassmen to compensate for the lack of returning lettermen during the 1972-73 season.

With Bob Ives and John DeThomas as the only seniors on the squad the Ellwood Netters posted a dismal 3-11 record.

The experience gained by underclassmen this year will pay off as Coach Ghere eyes the fine capabilities of returning lettermen for the 1973-74 season.

The Netters led by Dave Calve and Greg Silvestri with the support of Dino Carozza and Mark Boots are looking forward to a prosperous year.

50 years brings many victories and many defeats

Imagine this, it's November 17, and the seconds are ticking away in the Ellwood-New Castle game. The score: Ellwood 14, New Castle 0. No, you're not dreaming, you've just gone back in time a little, about 50 years to the 1925 edition of the Wolverines, the only team ever to win the W.P.I.A.L. championship for Ellwood.

Fifty years may seem like a long time to reminisce about, but this team was so good that they deserve the praise.

H. (Peck) Lee was the coach, and those that played for him say there was none better, or meaner, or more emotional. But he couldn't be all bad. After all, he won football games.

Then there was Tom MacMurdo, the 225 pound fullback that many consider the best Ellwood has ever had. He scored 115 points that year, but it wasn't because he played all the time. On the contrary he didn't even start in the massacre of East Palestine when Ellwood won 72-0. But when the going got tough he was the man that Lee counted on to get the job done ... and boy did he get it done.

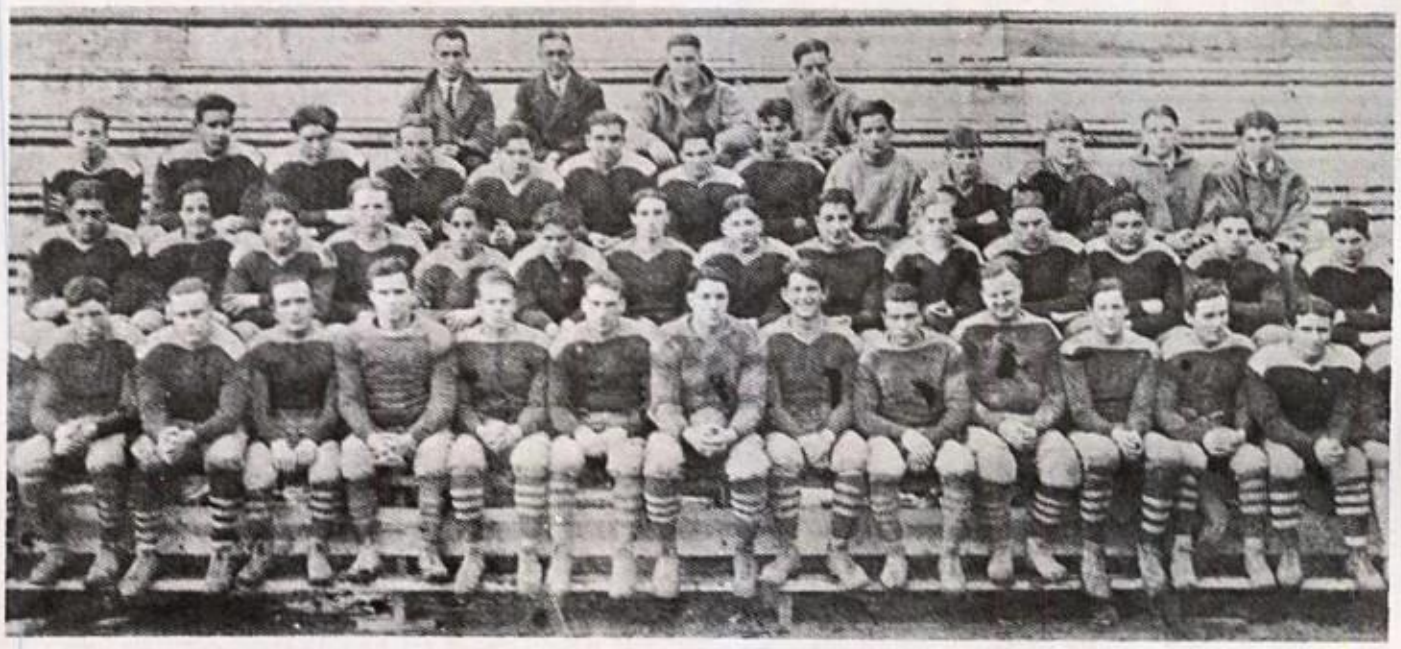
Enough about the coach and the star, let's talk about that season 50 years ago.

It all started out easy enough as the Wolverines stomped Evans City 60-0. Then came a 12-0 victory over Monaca, a 20-0 win over Beaver and Woodlawn and a 64-0 rout of New Wilmington.

This set the stage for the Lawrence County championship game between Ellwood and New Castle. Just to add a little more excitement to the contest, New Castle had not lost a game in 4 years and was rated above Ellwood in the rankings. But as stated before, when the going got tough Lee counted on MacMurdo. Big Tom came through with touchdowns of 26 and 1 yards as the Wolverines beat the Cane's 14-0.

After easy wins over Homestead and East Palestine the Wolverines entered the game that was considered by many the National Championship of high school football. The game, against Freeport, Illinois, only proved the Wolverines human as they were defeated 13-7.

Fifty years haven't tainted the memories of this great team and when you talk football at Lincoln you inevitably travel back those 50 long years to that great 1925 team.



but one thing is the same as always . . . pride

Pride says it all, and this year despite a 3-6 record, the 1973 Wolverines showed a great deal of pride under new head coach Bill Ruddy.

Hard work and determination were the key to pre-season double practices as Coach Ruddy drilled the Wolverines in prep for the defending champion Hopewell Vikings.

Perfection was all that could be said of the Hopewell game as the Wolverines intercepted three passes and rolled up over 250 yards on the ground in winning 14-12. Against Beaver Falls the mighty ground game, behind a veteran hard core line, rolled up another 250 yards. But five fumbles and two interceptions spelled defeat from the Tigers 41-23.

After succumbing to a powerful Ambridge squad 13-0, the Wolverines took on the undefeated Aliquippa Indians. A ferocious defense held the Quips to only eleven yards the first half, but mistakes killed Ellwood in the second half as they fell 44-6.

Although the Riverside Panthers took an early 7-0 lead, they proved no challenge as the Wolverines got untracted and blew the Panthers out of the stadium 44-14 in the annual Homecoming game.

The Wolverines looked flat the next two games dropping decisions to Butler 35-0 and Farrell 27-7. Then came Sharon.

Sharon's Bengal Tigers were up among the defensive leaders in the W.P.I.A.L. allowing only three points a game. But in their last game at Helling Stadium the seniors left in great fashion ripping Sharon 22-7.

Larry Fazioli behind brilliant line blocking rambled for 120 yards. Mark Hutchison also had 90 yards to go along with a 70-yard kickoff return. With the added confidence the Wolverines gave eventual W.P.I.A.L. champion, New Castle, all they could handle before falling 21-0.

The offensive line, led by first team all M.A.C. center Vince Zito, guards Len Cicozzi and Joe Carosi, and tackles Dave Gentile and Blake Steele, along with Dave Zito who filled in most of the time for the injured Carosi, opened gaping holes all season long for Fazioli and Hutchison.

Despite losing the entire offensive line to graduation, Coach Ruddy has the nucleus of a fine team returning next year led by Fazioli, quarterback, Mike DeLisio, end, Joe Ricciuti and tailback Jim Gallaher.

If the offense can perform close to that of this year, the Wolverines should have a bright fall in 1974.

eyeing the future, junior high gridders exhibit determination

Despite a 0-3-2 record, Junior High fought hard in every game and constantly displayed that never say die effort throughout the year.

Under the leadership of coaches, Mr. Ghere and Mr. Jinar, the little Wolverines fought hard against all opponents even though they were often times outweighed and outmanned.

Ties against Farrell and Sharon highlighted the year, a year when only 28 players were on the team.

Consistent performers for the little Wolves throughout the year were Bob Gallagher, Steve Veres, Damian Lombardi, and Marty Colavincenzo along with eighth grader Kevin Ruddy, who started at quarterback throughout the year.

With the return of Ruddy at quarterback and many good newcomers, Junior High football seems to have a bright future in Ellwood.

50 wins and sixth straight title highlight year

Head Coach Carl "Rizzo" Mantz has made winning a tradition for the Lincoln High Golf Team. This year the "Linkers" won their 50th straight section match and were Section 10 champs for the sixth consecutive year. Combining the efforts of three returning Lettermen, Jim Mantz, Chris Morini, and Dan Badger, with the splendid performances of Scott McKim, Mark DiCerbo, and Frank Sbarro, the Linkers handily swept all section matches this year, entering the W.P.I.A.L. playoffs undefeated. Slating wins over Blackhawk and Wilmington in the first round of the playoffs the second round ended Ellwood's chances as they met defeat in their second match with Upper St. Clair.

With Coach Bill Irwin at the helm, the cross country team posts a 5-8 mark for the 1973-74 season.

Ron Tomon, the Harriers' leader throughout the year, finished either first or second in every section meet, and 13th in the M.A.C. Mark Bellissimo, Jim Plavecsky and John Takacs along with Juniors Mark Wojtkiewicz, Don Hazen, and Vince Mercuri also proved to be consistent performers throughout the year.

These Juniors with the help of some fine newcomers, give coach Irwin hope for the future.

rifles advance to second place

In only their second year of section competition, the Ellwood rifle team compiled a fine 9-3 record to finish in second place behind North Allegheny in Section 4.

The riflers finished among the top ten teams in the W.P.I.A.L. in team average shooting better than 498 per match. Top shooters for the gunners this year were Jim McCowan with a 99.6 average out of a possible 100. He was followed by Elmer Windhorst, Dave Polovina, and Dave DeCampli.

Coaches Tim Powell and Dewey Minteer were proud of their team. This year as Powell said, "The kids did a tremendous job in section competition and really deserve the second place they got."

With many of the top shooters returning for next year, the rifle team seems destined as a power in Section 4.

seventh graders win many games

Playing with the drive that only seventh graders could show, this year's seventh grade basketball team hustled their way to a sparkling 13-3 record. Against such formidable opponents as Farrell and Sharon, the seventh graders proved that they could handle such teams with ease.

With Bob Timmerman as the coach, the seventh graders worked on fundamentals during the year in preparation for the time when they will be playing varsity.

With such a good record and the desire shown by these youngsters, the basketball program seems on the upswing here at Lincoln.

style and grace, eighth graders

Style and grace are usually qualities that are reserved for Varsity basketball but not this year. The eighth graders proved this by running through a demanding schedule with all the style and grace in the world, finishing with a 20-6 record.

Amos Mazzant, the coach, inspired a hustling spirit that was evident throughout the year. Hard practices taught them how to win and team work made them win. Dale Hutchison was the leading scorer for the Little Wolverines, but other stars were Kevin Ruddy, Brad Kent, Jamie LaRitz and Jeff Conte. Along with a strong bench, this team provided fans with exciting play all year.

The combination of this fine eighth grade team and the seventh graders could mean only one thing--that is winning teams for the future at Lincoln.

junior high fights hard through dismal season

It's nice to win, but the most important thing in Junior High is to get the players ready for the Varsity. Although they did not win many games this year, the junior high accomplished their goal of getting the basics down in preparation for next year.

Phil Wimer coached junior high and despite the losing season of 2-18, he was proud of his players throughout the year. The two victories were in the first two games of the year, after which they dropped their remaining 18 games.

The athletes never quit hustling or trying and this will be clearly evident next year when they are playing J.V.'s.

Front Row: D. Stevenson, J. Rusnock, J. Valentino, S. Veres, T. Schepisi, J. Eonta, T. Coliani, W. Stoyanoff. Row 2: B. Carothers, D. Lombardo, M. Viccari, M. Neff, J. Wattick, D. Garruchio, B. Liberato, B. Gallaher, M. LaRitz.

A vision of a future section 3 championship guided the J.V.'s to a fruitful year.

With Coach Bill Allen at the helm, the J.V.'s often seemed to be competing with the varsity for fan appeal. This was done by spirited fourth quarter rallies that produced excited narrow victories.

When they did lose the J.V.'s did it with "class." Mark Stevenson, Joe Funari and John Young were the leaders throughout the year.

That vision of a future championship won't be enough to win it, but with hard work and dedication it could just come true.

hustling play cannot make up for inexperience

Having at least three underclassmen in the starting line-up for most of the year, may not win you many games now, but wait till next year.

This is what people are saying about this year's edition of the Lincoln High Wolverines. The underclassmen starters were Joe DiLeonardo, Dave Hulick and Mike DeLisio. Mark Reese and Kevin Canterna rounded out the starting five. Reese, Canterna, Jeff Barnett, and Brian Ketterer were the only seniors on the team.

Probably the most exciting game of the year was an exhibition victory over Valley. The highly tauted Valley team came to Ellwood rated very high. But an overtime last-second shot by Joe DiLeonardo gave the Wolverines the game.

An impressive win over New Castle and a good performance against Farrell also gave the fans reason to believe that Coach Aloi will have a sound team returning next year.

DeLisio led the scoring attack with 369 points while DiLeonardo was the top rebounder.

With these two key performances, the Wolverines will be rated high going into the next season.

grapplers secure experience in initial year of section action

With interest and high hopes the Lincoln High Wrestlers entered their first year of section competition.

Competing against such powerhouses as New Castle, Ambridge and Sharon the grapplers record their only victory over Aliquippa.

Head Coach Lou Zagorski and assistant Robin Wilson worked the wrestlers regularly in hopes of getting them down to their desired weight classes.

One grappler who didn't have to lose weight was the Wolverine heavy-weight, Blake Steele. Steele rolled through all section matches with but one blemish, that being a tie to Hopewell's Eugene Kuhn.

Kuhn also handed Steele his only loss of the year in the M.A.E. championships, as Steele finished second.

Mike Berezniak's six wins, three losses, and one tie was second to Steele for best record on the team. This is interesting because Steele is a senior and Berezniak a freshman.

Steele and Doug O'Rock were co-captains for the grapplers, and along with Chris Baker and Randy Marshall were the only seniors on the varsity team.

With Steele and Berezniak leading the way the wrestlers entered post-season district competition. With all but four regulars returning for next year, Coach Zagorski is very optimistic towards the future.

before we finish

here's a little something extra

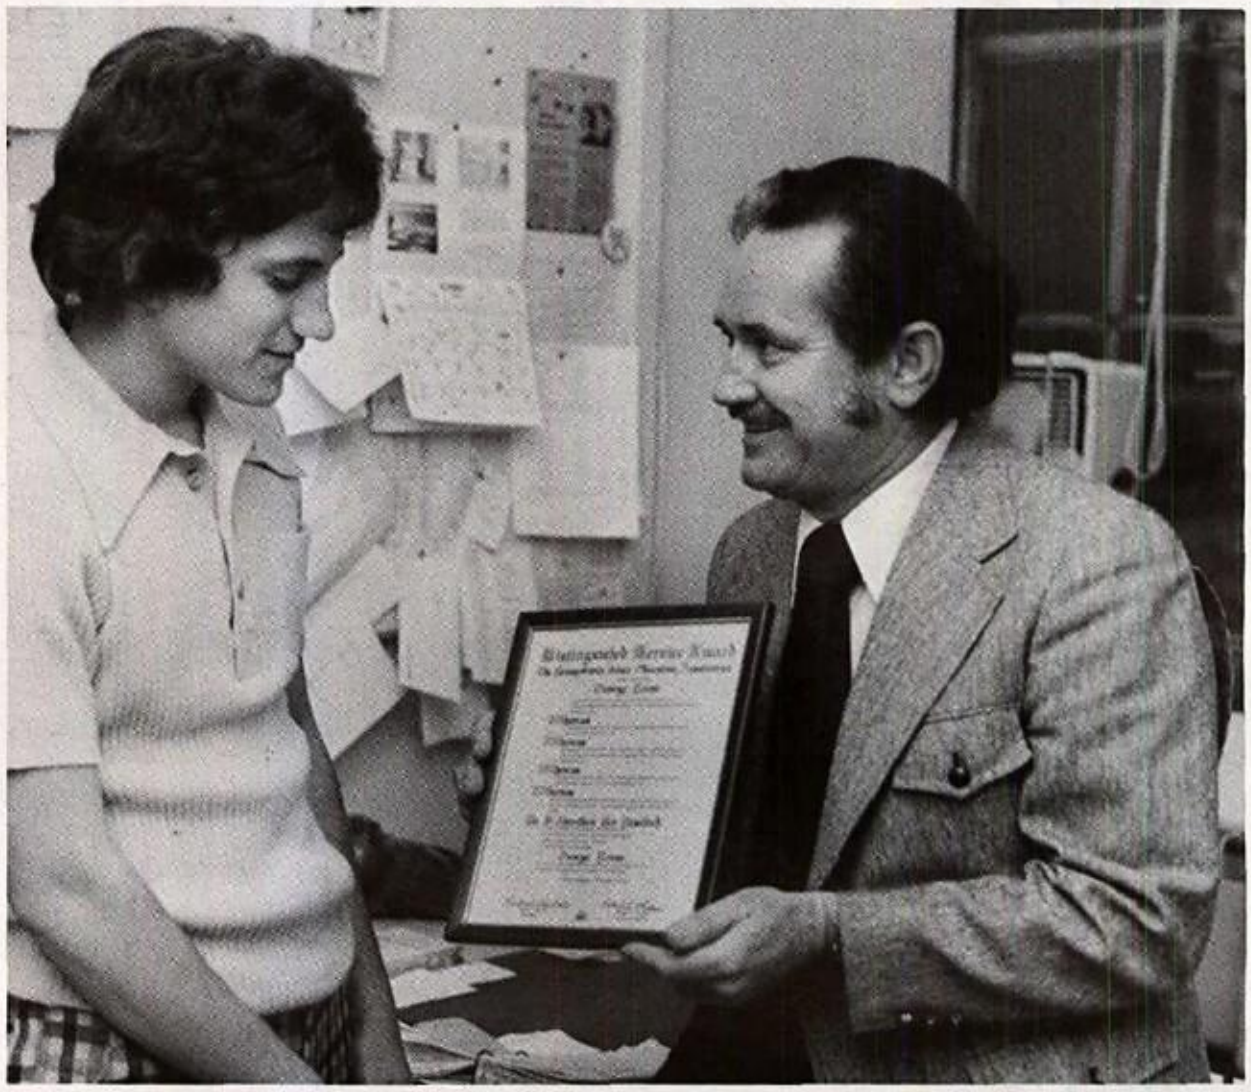
a tribute to a case of courage

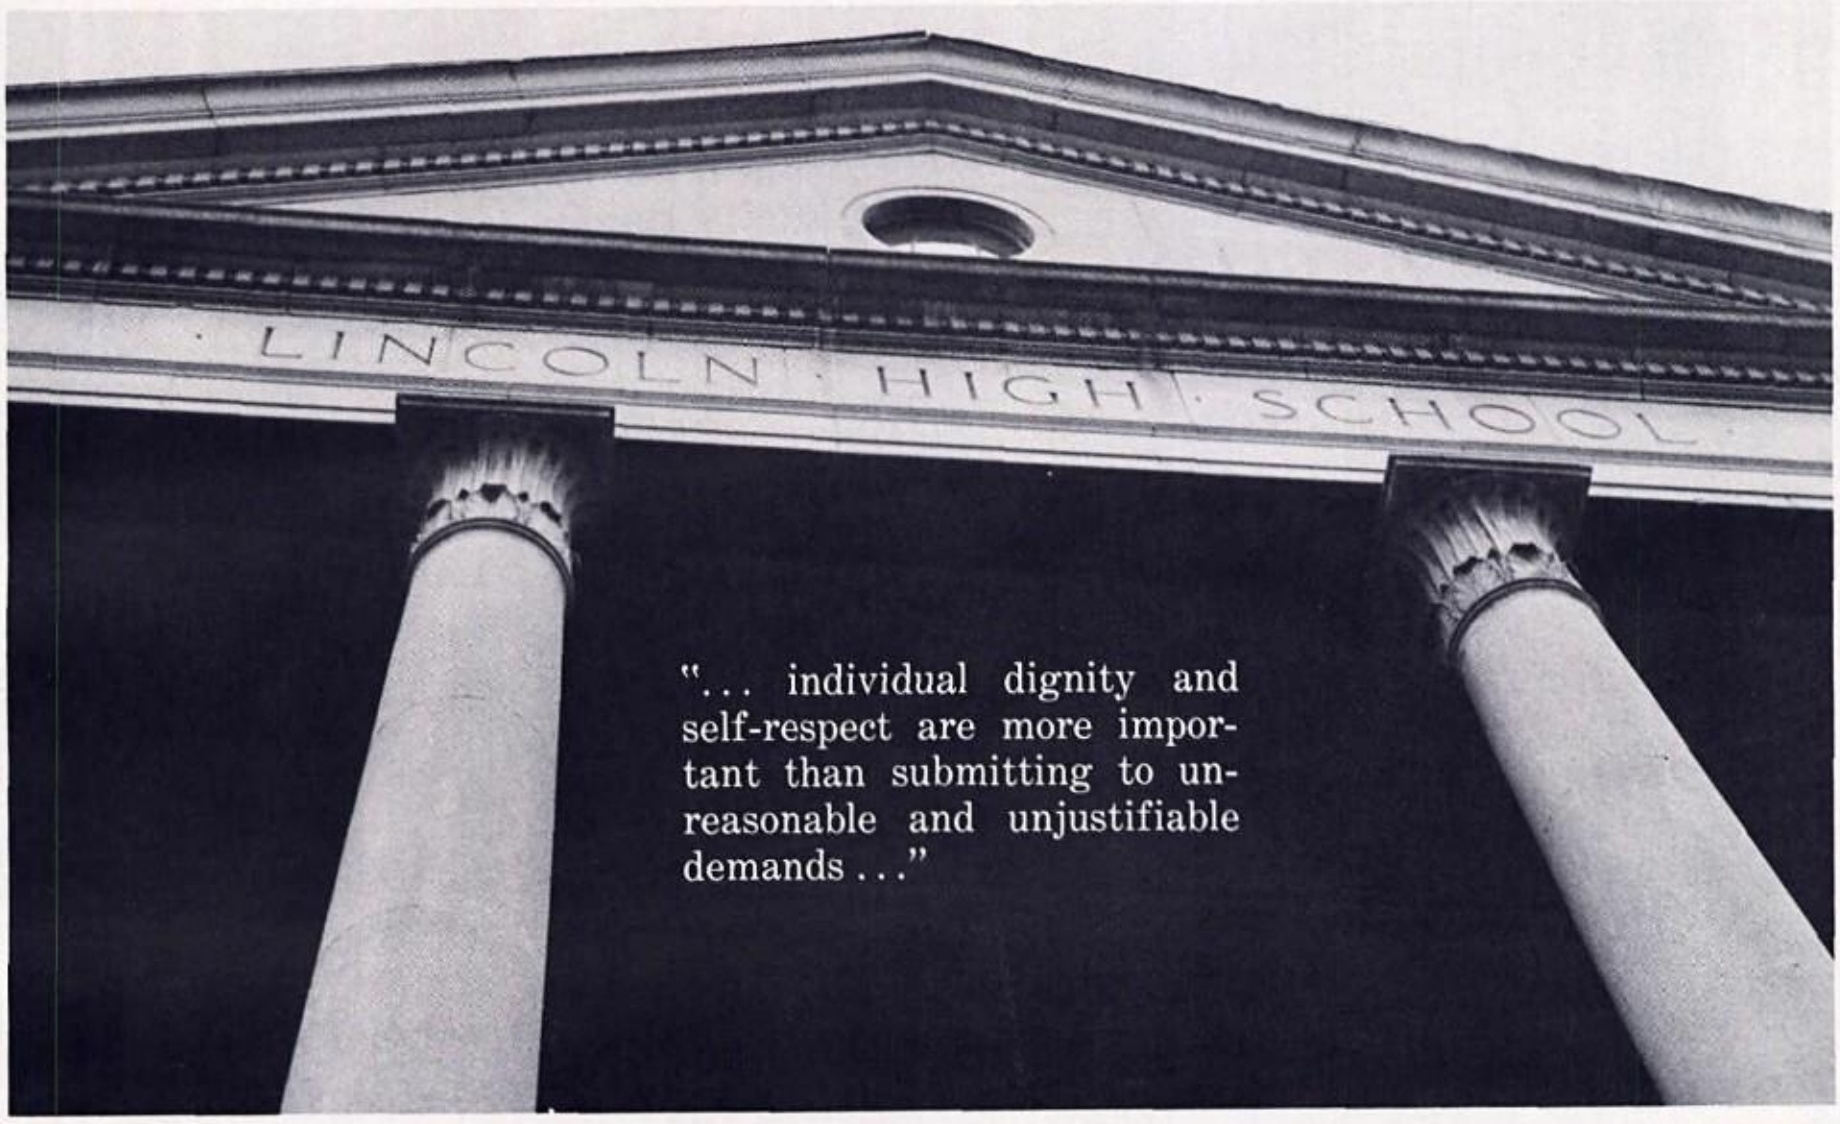
Due to the many pressures placed on him by a complex society, an individual finds it increasingly difficult to stand up for what he believes in. To take this stand requires courage.

Courage involves doing what must be done even in the face of ruin. Assistant Principal George Reese put everything on the line when he took his stand to prove false the charges of "incompetence" and "negligence" made against him by the Ellwood City Area School Board. In this endeavor he was victorious. For his victory he was presented with a Distinguished Service Award from the Pennsylvania State Education Association, a professional organization for educators. Inscribed on the award are the reasons for the presentation. "Whereas he chose to stand up for his rights, thus placing honor before family and personal concerns, and "whereas he adhered to his position that individual dignity and self-respect are more important than submitting to unreasonable and unjustifiable demands, and "Whereas he maintained the courage of his convictions despite personal harassment, untold anguish and financial hardship, and "Whereas he persevered through countless hours of ridicule and interrogation in behalf of a moral principle, thus jeopardizing his own professional career.

"Be it therefore so resolved that the board of directors and membership of the PSEA hereby salutes and proudly presents a distinguished service award to George Reese for his courage, steadfastness, dedication, and determination in behalf of the professional rights of all educators."

We salute you, Mr. Reese.





"... individual dignity and self-respect are more important than submitting to unreasonable and unjustifiable demands ..."

communication . . . needed for peace

The new youth shall not be hindered by the barrier of tongues.
His desire for friendship blended with his ability to communicate will enable him to join hands

we may never pass this way again, the last line is now finished – turn the page, a new has begun

Understood,
but all have struggled to grasp
as much as possible.
The last line is now finished.
The chapter is over.
Turn the page;
a new one has begun.

"We may never pass this way again."

One chapter in life
a long, difficult passage through youth.
The pages tattered
with wear.
The words, reread
countless times.
For it is a necessary path
in the story
of life.
The meaning?
Perhaps not completely

Thoughts turn back to memories of dear friends

Dennis Feragonia, born 6/3/56
died 3/7/70

Ray Ryhal, born 6/3/56
died 6/21/73

Mark Alberth, born 8/8/56
died 3/12/63

He is not Dead

I cannot say, and I will not say That he is dead. He is just away.
With a cheery smile, and a wave of the hand,
He has wandered into an unknown land
And left us dreaming how very fair
It needs must be since he lingers there
And you--oh, you, who the wildest yearn
For an old-time step,
and the glad return,
Think of him faring on, as dear
In the love of There as the love of Here.
Think of him still as the same.
I say,
He is not dead--he is just away

James Whitcomb Riley

filled with simple pleasures

a lasting memory is captured.

a smile . . . a sigh . . . a pause

grads enter a world of tomorrow

a bright new sun is rising, blessing me.
giving me a light to follow,
guiding me.

in the shadow of today
I longingly glance back at all my yesterdays
and I hesitate . . . to recognize tomorrow.

impressions . . . of tiptoeing
gently through childhood, experiencing all of life
in a world of miniature.

reflections . . . of sad, melancholy moments at the threshold of adulthood learning of love and understanding.

dreams . . . of a future laden with fulfilled hopes and answered questions

I will follow
the guiding light of my new rising sun.

In former days we'd both agree
That you were me, and I was you.
What has now happened to us two,
That you are you, and I am me?
